Internationally affiliated Emotions Anonymous is a Twelve-Step program of recovery. EA support groups are intended for individuals with emotional difficulties striving to live more manageable lives. EA is a spiritual, not a religious, program. Meetings stress self-worth, self-knowledge and self-care.

There are approximately 300 EA meetings across the United States. Currently virtual meetings are being held nationally and internationally. Anyone is invited to attend. Some of the support groups will still meet remotely after face-to-face meetings resume.

At this time, U.S. virtual meetings include

- Sunday 9-10 a.m. (PT)
- Monday 12 p.m. (CT)
- Thursday 7:30 p.m. (ET)
- Thursday 8 p.m. (ET)
- Thursday 7 p.m. (ET) LGBTQ+

The national website can be used to access virtual meetings and has numerous resources, including meditations and an audio library.
